Gladiator Guild Manager is a multiplayer manager game played via your browser or local network. Players manage up to 20 gladiators, upgrade their equipment and training, earn coins by training at the Temple and Arena, buy new gladiators, trade gladiators and equipment. Win fights and secure the Gladiators Guilds victory by collecting the most coins. Game Features: Guilds - Play with or against other players in a guild. The leader of a Guild can take gladiators and assign jobs to them, create and manage teams of gladiators. Guilds are ranked in a leaderboard and gladiators can receive medals. Arenas - Each Arena has one one gladiator fight every round, the winner gets a temporary advantage. The arena determines the rules of each fight - the gladiator wins or loses the fight. The Temple - The Temple contains the gladiators and equipment used to train and fight. The Temple has a limited number of slots and equipment that you can buy or obtain using coins. The best equipment is sold by the Temple for significant amounts of coins. Training - A gladiator who receives enough training wins fights more easily and earns greater coins than a gladiator who is well trained. Gladiators are trained by either the master at the Temple or a master in the Arena. Gladiators can be level trained, given classes or added to a player's own class. Training can be boosted using equipment. Masters - Players can fight and win a fight against the masters in each area. They can gain XP for fighting the masters, and winning additional rewards. Quests - Players can complete quests around the Arena and Temple. They receive rewards such as equipment and coins. Interface: The interface is similar to management games such as Empires, Kingdom or Citadels. The majority of game play occurs in the Arena - the Gladiator Guild Manager system is aimed primarily at Arena management. The interface, while having a similar look, functions differently. Each Arena has a Master and there are a total of 40. Players can fight against the Masters of each Arena (total of 20 Masters) and win a fight using a small number of arena points. The interface is designed to be simple and streamlined. It supports most modern browsers such as Firefox, Chrome, Opera and Edge. The Arena and Temple interfaces are aimed at Arena management, so there are some areas of the interface which are not as clean as others.
